

Akash Gehani,
COO and Co-founder of INSTAMOJO.

Akash is the COO and co-founder of Instamojo, India's largest on-demand payments and growth platform that allows anyone with a mobile number, internet and an active bank account to start an online business. Akash is one of the co-founders of Instamojo along with Sampad Swain and Aditya Sengupta.

Prior to this, Akash has worked for General Electric, WNS Global Services, ICICI Lombard and WanaMo. He worked at these companies in various roles ranging from Engineering to Business Development to Marketing. Akash has a degree in Information Technology from Thadomal Shahani Engineering College and an MBA in finance & marketing from Management Development Institute. During his time at Instamojo, Akash has overseen the introduction of many new products and it is his vital technical knowledge that has helped the company witness a growth of 178% in the last year alone.

A Mumbaikar at heart, Akash is enthusiastic about building great teams and believes that great leadership is about creating more leaders. He hopes to build education and mutual respect in people so they can achieve their goals and in turn build a better India. He loves a good challenge and likes to shake things up as far as business is concerned. In his free time, Akash likes reading and traveling. He's also a huge football fanatic.g.
